This policy sets out ALP Schools approach to spotting, recording and acting upon malpractice and maladministration that could affect our reputation, or learner achievement. This policy should be read in conjunction with the relevant awarding bodies own malpractice and maladministration policy.

ALP Schools work with the following awarding bodies - NCFE, Cache, TLM, AQA, Asdan, IGCSE

Policy statement

ALP Schools take allegations of malpractice and/or maladministration seriously and will investigate all allegations to establish whether malpractice has occurred and take appropriate action where this is found to be the case.

Definitions

Malpractice is defined as any deliberate activity, neglect, default or other practice that compromises the integrity of the assessment process, and/or the validity of our awards. Malpractice may include a range of issues from the failure to maintain appropriate records or systems to the deliberate falsification of records in order to claim certificates. Failure by a Centre to deal with identified issues may constitute malpractice.

Maladministration is any activity, neglect, default or other practice that results in ALP Schools or the candidate not complying with the specified requirements for delivery of the The Learning Machine qualifications. Maladministration may or may not be deliberate. Malpractice and maladministration overlap.

Malpractice and maladministration can lead to Adverse Effects. An Adverse Effect is defined thus:

An act, omission, event, incident, or circumstance has an Adverse Effect if it

(a) gives rise to prejudice to Learners or potential Learners, or

(b) adversely affects –

(i) the ability of the awarding organisation to undertake the development, delivery or award of qualifications in accordance with its Conditions of Recognition,

(ii) the standards of qualifications which the awarding organisation makes available or proposes to make available, or

(iii) public confidence in qualifications.

Regulation

Ofqual's General Conditions of Recognition place duties on ALP school::

Preventing malpractice and maladministration

ALP Schools take all reasonable steps to prevent the occurrence of any malpractice or maladministration in the development, delivery and award of qualifications.

Examples of maladministration

The categories listed below are examples of schools and learner maladministration. Please note that these examples are not exhaustive and are only intended as guidance on our definition of malpractice:

- Persistent failure to adhere to our learner registration and certification procedures.
- Persistent failure to adhere to our centre recognition and/or qualification requirements and/or associated actions assigned to the centre.
- Late learner registrations (both infrequent and persistent).
- Unreasonable delays in responding to requests and/or communications from the awarding body Inaccurate claim for certificates.
- Failure to maintain appropriate auditable records, e.g. certification claims and/or forgery of evidence.
- Withholding of information, by deliberate act or omission, from us which is required to assure the awarding body of the centre's ability to deliver qualifications appropriately.
- Misuse of our logo and trademarks or misrepresentation of a centre's relationship with the awarding body and/or its recognition and approval status with the AO.
- Failure to adhere to, or to circumnavigate, the requirements of our Reasonable Adjustments policy.

Examples of malpractice

The categories listed below are examples of centre and learner malpractice. Please note that these examples are not exhaustive and are only intended as guidance on our definition of malpractice:

- Denial of access to premises, records, information, learners and staff to any authorised the awarding organisation representative and/or the regulatory authorities.
- Failure to carry out internal assessment, internal moderation or internal verification in accordance with our requirements.
- Deliberate failure to adhere to our learner registration and certification procedures.
Deliberate failure to continually adhere to our centre recognition and/or qualification approval requirements or actions assigned to our centre.

- Deliberate failure to maintain appropriate auditable records, e.g. certification claims and/or forgery of evidence.
- Fraudulent claim(s) for certificates.
- The unauthorised use of inappropriate materials / equipment in assessment settings (e.g. mobile phones).
- Intentional withholding of information from us which is critical to maintaining the rigour of quality assurance and standards of qualifications.
- Deliberate misuse of an awarding body's logo and trademarks or misrepresentation of a centre's relationship with the awarding body and/or its recognition and approval status with the awarding body.
- Collusion or permitting collusion in exams/assessments.
- Learners still working towards qualification after certification claims have been made.
- Persistent instances of maladministration within the centre.
- Deliberate contravention by a centre and/or its learners of the assessment arrangements we specify for our qualifications.
- A loss, theft of, or a breach of confidentiality in, any assessment materials.
- Plagiarism by learners/staff.
- Copying from another learner (including using ICT to do so).
- Personation -assuming the identity of another learner or having someone assume your identity during an assessment.
- Unauthorised amendment, copying or distributing of exam/assessment papers/materials/internal documents including start paperwork, progress reviews, DCR'S, Ace Forms.
- Inappropriate assistance to learners by centre staff (e.g. unfairly helping them to pass a unit or qualification).
- Deliberate submission of false information to gain a qualification or unit.
- Forgery of any learner/staff signature on internal documents such as start paperwork, progress reviews or DCR'S.

This information will confirm to us who learner says they are and as part of the enrolment pack there is a declaration which the learner and employer needs to read in full then signs and dates.

Process for making an allegation of malpractice or maladministration

Anybody who identifies or is made aware of suspected or actual cases of malpractice or maladministration at any time must immediately notify Highfield. In doing so they should put them in writing/email and enclose appropriate supporting evidence

All allegations must include (where possible):

- Centre's full name, address and telephone number;

ALP Schools, Includes Pierview Academy (Gravesend), Parkview Academy (Welling), ALP Leicester and ALP Nuneaton - Policy Updated Sept 2020

- Learner's full name and Highfield registration number;
- Centre personnel's details (name, job role) if they are involved in the case;
- Details of the course/qualification affected, or nature of the service affected;
- Nature of the suspected or actual malpractice and associated dates;
- Details and outcome of any initial investigation carried out by the Centre or anybody else involved in the case, including any mitigating circumstances.

In addition, ALP Schools asks that the person making the allegation declares any personal interest they may have in the matter to us at the outset.

Our responsibility:

ALP Schools Senior Management Teams have overall responsibility for ensuring that this policy is implemented. If there is any form of malpractice or maladministration, ALP Schools Senior Management Team will follow the stages below

Stage 1

Conducting of an investigation led by an Internal Quality Assurer

Stage 2

Establishing the facts by completing a Malpractice & Maladministration report

Stage 3

Face-to-face interviews should normally be conducted by two people with one person primarily acting as interviewer and the other as note-taker. In some cases, learners or employers may need to be contacted for facts and information. This may be done via face-to-face interviews, telephone interviews, by post or by email.

Stage 4

Wherever possible documentary evidence should be authenticated by this may include asking learners and others to confirm handwriting, dates and signatures.

Stage 5

Once the investigators have gathered and reviewed all relevant evidence, a decision is made on the outcome.

Stage 6

A report is prepared and a factual accuracy agreement obtained and shared by members of the Quality Team at the relevant exam board.

Note - The school will notify the exam boards and work with them on further actions and resolutions.

Confidentiality and whistleblowing

Sometimes a person making an allegation of malpractice or maladministration may wish to remain anonymous. Although it is always preferable to reveal your identity and provide contact details, if a staff member is concerned about possible adverse consequences that may occur should their identity be revealed to another party then ALP School will notify the awarding body of this.

ALP Schools will always aim to keep a whistle-blower's identity confidential where asked to do so, although we cannot guarantee this.

The investigator(s) assigned to review the allegation will not reveal the whistle-blower's identity unless the whistleblower agrees or it is absolutely necessary for the purposes of the investigation (as noted above). The investigator(s) will advise the whistleblower if it becomes necessary to reveal their identity against their wishes.

A whistleblower should also recognise that he or she may be identifiable by others due to the nature or circumstances of the disclosure (for example the party which the allegation is made against may manage to identify possible sources of disclosure without such details being disclosed to them).

Conclusion

Once the school's internal investigation has concluded we will work with the awarding bodies in relation to their policies and procedures.
