Alternative Learning Project: Parkview Academy Profile

Schools Context

The school is committed to Careers Education as a vital means of giving all pupils the skills, knowledge and understanding to manage their own lifelong learning and career development. Careers Education will both complement and integrate with Personal and Social Development and Citizenship courses.

Parkview Academy provides for young people with SEN/SEBD who have experienced difficulties in other educational settings. As a result of their previous experiences they have often become disengaged from the education system. This is likely to have impacted on the quality of family life which we recognise requires our understanding. Our alternative provision offers young people a different approach to learning, with a flexible outlook, designed around the young person's individual needs. Our young people's age range is from 6 to 25 years old.

Introduction

The Education Act 2011 places a statutory duty on maintained schools to secure access for pupils to independent and impartial career guidance that promotes the best interests of the pupil to whom it is given and includes information on all options available to them including apprenticeships and other work based learning.

Schools should ensure that all students are aware of out of school opportunities that could help them with their career aspirations, such as the National Citizen Service and other voluntary and community activities.

Effective Careers education at Parkview Academy is impartial and considers young people's abilities, needs and preferences. This service is available to our students across the school.

Careers Education and Guidance has an important role to play in achieving the overall school aims. National expectations

In order to provide for the real needs and circumstances of our pupils, face-to-face interviews with independent advisers will be provided for those pupils to whom the school deems it to be the most suitable form of support, including (where relevant) those with SEND and those for whom the Pupil Premium is paid. This will be in addition to interviews offered by the School's own careers advisor, where information will also be given in an impartial way.

The Education Act 2011 placed the duty to `secure access to independent careers guidance` for their pupils and students upon schools (from September 2012 for pupils aged 14 to age 16), and then from September 2013 upon schools for pupils aged 13 – 18.

We are committed to meeting national and local expectations in relations to careers by:

- Securing impartial careers guidance for Y8 and above as required by the 2011 Education act.

Specifically, students need access to:

- comprehensive and up to date information on the full range of options in education, training and work, accompanied by information on the progression opportunities that follow from each of those options;
- timely and impartial advice and guidance;
- programmes of careers education that equip them to make effective use of the information, advice and guidance provided and to develop their career management and employability skills.
